

Introduction to Printmaking with Linocut

NB. This picture is for illustration purposes only

What is this course about?

Linocut is a printmaking technique. A design is cut into the Lino surface with a sharp knife, V-shaped chisel or gouge, with the raised (uncarved) areas representing a reversal (mirror image) of the parts to show printed.

This course provides an introduction to the practical techniques and design aspects of linocut printmaking.

You will be introduced to other methods such as printing with found objects and other materials that can be printed onto.

Topics include:

- Tools and materials
- Compositions & pattern
- Sketch/design on paper & transfer image
- Inking & printing

What previous experience do I need?

This course is suitable for both beginners and those who would like to revisit the basics of printmaking.

How will I learn?

Through a series of friendly and supportive practical sessions you will be given the opportunity to try out a range of the processes. To enhance your learning we will provide you with an individual learning plan to enable you to record your progress and achievement. This will be yours to keep and will act as your own personal reminder between classes as well as once your course has finished.

What materials will I need?

Paper, pencils, pens, ruler and eraser

Materials will be provided for the first week only.

A range of printmaking tools are required which will be supplied for use during the course.

*Advice will be given in your first session regarding any additional materials you may need for the following weeks.
