

Foreword

Warwickshire County Council has published the Warwickshire Design Guide in order to ensure development across the county is of a high quality. Since it was first published, there have been many changes in national guidance and best practice, as well as new requirements and expectations for the County Council, in order to deliver appropriate highway infrastructure.

This updated version of the Warwickshire Design Guide incorporates these changes. As such, it provides developers with the most up-to-date guidance on Warwickshire County Council's processes and requirements for any development that impacts on the county's highway infrastructure.

The Design Guide should continue to be used in conjunction with the many local and national policies and guidance that ensure highway design promotes road safety and integrated transport for our residents, visitors and businesses. Alongside the adopted Local Transport Plan, this Guide will also ensure the highway changes associated with development support the County Council towards achieving its stated aims of achieving Net Zero carbon, protecting our local environment, and promoting people's wellbeing.
