THE good work continues apace at Henley's recently adopted railway station with the launch of a kids' corner on Saturday.

It proved a hit with the younger generation who came along to shape the new feature.

The event was sponsored by Wadsworths Solicitors in Henley, who gave £300 worth of plants.

The afternoon's activities were opened by Henley's town crier, along with the High Bailiff and officers of the Court Leet.

Angela added: "We are delighted that the Bee Friendly Trust has visited the station and are very keen to work with Friends of Henley Railway Station to create a unique feature
