RAIL Trails

Kenilworth Circular Walk

Whilst this is a countryside walk, do make time to explore Kenilworth Castle. A visit to the glorious gothic ruin gets you an insight into 900 years of history replete with royalty, sieges and romance!

This is a very rural walk so make sure to stock up on provisions before you leave town. You'll find plenty of shops, restaurants and pubs around Warwick Road and the Old High Street, including the venerable Virgins & Castle, and the Michelin starred The Cross. You can also grab a cocktail at Pomeroy's inside the facade of Kenilworth's original 1844 train station!

Also recommended...

E. The Virgins & Castle

Worth the extra hike across Abbey Fields for sure! Kenilworth's oldest pub has been serving since 1563, (and possibly earlier!) so there's absolutely no reason not to pop in for a venerable pint, delicious food or a cracking Sunday Roast.

F. Pomeroy's

Despite being housed in the sandstone facade of Kenilworth's very first station (from 1844) you can ease back in some modern ambience at Pomeroy's. The food great but we'd go for a well earned cocktail!
