Emma's Story: Empowering Local Entrepreneurs

As a committed member of All Communities Matter in Nuneaton, I've always been passionate about supporting local talent. Many of the entrepreneurs I work with - crafters, bakers, artists, and home-based creators - are incredibly skilled but often struggle with customer engagement and sales. Wanting to help, I reached out to ACL for support, and together we launched the "Beginner Business and Branding" course.

With the specialist expertise of ACL staff, we created a flexible, evening-based online course tailored to our community's entrepreneurial needs.

The course not only improved our understanding of business fundamentals but also boosted our confidence. ACL helped me see my business in a new light and inspired fresh ideas.

Despite initial challenges my tutor's support was instrumental in helping me and others grow. As a result, I now feel more confident advising others and have seen fellow stallholders take proactive steps in their businesses.

This experience has been transformative. I've gained practical skills, renewed motivation, and have a clearer vision for the future. I'm now working on expanding our digital presence and helping others do the same.

I highly recommend ACL courses to anyone looking to grow personally and professionally. It's more than just business training: it's a catalyst for community empowerment.

Kata's Story

A year ago, my partner and I made a life-changing move from the heart of Budapest to the peaceful countryside of Warwickshire. Back in Budapest, we lived in a small flat nestled in a shared building with a tiny courtyard. Despite its modest size, I saw potential in that space.

With the support of our neighbours, I transformed it into a vibrant green haven. We had ivy trailing across wires, herbs flourishing in balcony boxes, and strawberries ripening on the top floor. It was more than just gardening; it was about creating life, community, and beauty in an unexpected place.

When we arrived in England, I was filled with hope but also uncertainty. I wanted to connect with people and contribute to my new community, but I wasn't sure how. My partner encouraged me to take an English course, and I enrolled in an ESOL class with ACL. This decision became a turning point. As my language skills improved, so did my confidence and sense of belonging.

Through my tutor, I discovered the Grow Your Own horticulture course, and I immediately knew it was the perfect fit. It brought together my passion for nature, creativity, and learning. The course has been transformative. My tutor's knowledge and encouragement have inspired me deeply. My tutor nurtures each student's growth with care and attention.

Now, I'm taking the next step. I've applied to become a volunteer, hoping to combine my skills in Art and Horticulture to support others. I believe in the power of green spaces to heal, connect, and inspire, and I'm eager to share that with my community.

This journey has taught me that growth – whether in a garden or in life – takes patience, courage, and the right environment. I'm ready to keep growing and to help others do the same.

“I've learned that gardening helps people connect. My idea was to connect people through plants, and I think it worked. It even inspired my final art degree project.”

Stefan's Story

“It is a lovely class, and I make lots of friends. The tutors are ‘magnifique’!

I would tell people to do the course. We learn about the local community. We learn how to use money and the value of items. We have learnt about healthy eating. In music sessions we learn about different types of music and where it comes from. I liked music this year.”

Is this for me?

Yes, if you are looking to improve your English for work, study, or everyday life. Apply if you are 19+ and meet our residency criteria (see page 11).

What will I learn?

You will gain skills to improve your communication, give you better job opportunities, take your first step towards other qualifications or help you feel more independent in managing your daily communication tasks.

What can I expect?

What will happen to once I register for a course?

You will be invited to an appointment to see an ESOL tutor who will check your residency and English level. We will then talk to you about the best pathway for you. This will also give you an opportunity to discuss your career aspirations and additional learning needs.

We practise together and help each other. I also learned important things for life, like filling forms, talking to the doctor, or shopping. This class is very important for me and I want it to continue."
