Description : Route A to C - on plan - HHRA 1a/09

*The Route commences at point A on plan on the eastern boundary of the Hockley Heath Recreation Ground. For over two decades, a substantial single wooden plank footbridge, about 15" wide and firmly embedded, spanned the wide ditch course.
 (This bridge was removed and the new landowner obstructed access by large amounts of barbed wire)
 Crossing the ditch the route enters directly to the adjoining farmland through what was an unobstructed gap in the hedgerow/fence.
 The once well-trodden path follows a wide unploughed grass verge along the field boundary, first southwards, then eastwards as shown on the plan. At the far corner of this field and south west of the copse, the path crosses an unobstructed gap (sometimes wet) to follow the clear path over a 5-foot wide verge running south along the field boundary to the field corner as shown. Here the verge and path proceeded eastwards to a very obvious, much used, and unobstructed ditch crossing, giving access to the statutory footpath SL39 at point C on plan. (The new landowner has now obstructed this ditch crossing with a barbed wire fence.)*
