Statement of Evidence for RA Claim SD 76

- 1) The earliest reference to this lane is in the Wootton Wawen Inclosure Award of 1776 (County Record Office QS75/136). There is no map with this Award, however, but there is an estate map showing the situation immediately after the Award (CRO : Z190/4(u)) in this part of the parish, as well as a reconstruction of the whole Award made in 1904 (Z373/4(u)).
- 2) The estate map shows the estate of the Provost and scholars of Kings College, Cambridge at Whitley. The map shows the whole of the road network (including the present claim) coloured, with no subdivision, as well as the names of the old, and ancient, inclosures and the names of adjoining owners.
- 3) One of the allotments in the Award, namely that to Thomas Ward (starting at line 188), is described as having the road from Preston Green to Kite Green on the north, with Preston Green on the north-west side. These are part of the claimed route and are shown on the above estate map. They are specifically excluded from the landholding, thereby implying their public nature.
- 4) Another estate map, dated 1800 (Z190/5(u)), of the same estate, also shows the road network (including the claimed route), this time uncoloured since it did not form part of the ownership, with the south-east end labelled "To Preston". These points both imply the public nature of the route.
- 5) The Tithe Apportionment for Preston Bagot parish (1839) (CR569/192) shows most of the claimed route as being outside, but adjoining, the parish. The part within the parish is numbered '22' (north end) and '197' (south end). The Book of Reference lists these, with the present day roads, as "Roads" with the owner and occupier given as Sir E. J. Smythe (the Lord of the Manor), and no tithe being payable. This shows that all the roads were considered to be part of the waste of the manor, which is normal since public highways were a special type of waste.
- 6) The Tithe Apportionment for Wootton Wawen parish (1843) (CR569/278 pt.4) omits the lane from Whitley Farm generally south-east to the Henley Road as being outside the parish (i.e. it was believed to be outside both parishes). The section along the north side of Whitley Farm, however, is shown coloured and unnumbered, as part of the public road network.
- 7) The whole route is shown on all subsequent Ordnance Survey maps and is currently bounded with hedges and trees on both sides, some ponded areas in the track, and no visible evidence of use by horses or vehicles along it. It is also excluded from all registered land and from the other principal landholding, which lies on its west side.
