The Armed Forces Covenant in the Community

The vast majority of the 2.8 million ex-servicemen and women living in Britain today have successfully adapted to civilian life and experience they acquired while serving in the armed forces to good use. However, a significant minority can be in real need at the point of discharge or many years afterwards.

This e-learning explains the commitment of the Armed Forces Covenant and how it can be honoured and implemented in your community. It will help you understand and apply the principles of the Covenant at a local level. It also provides sources of further information. Select a section block below to get started.

This e-learning module is now freely available to all via the MOD Armed Forces Covenant website. It can now be accessed by anyone anywhere in the world.
